

ALBERT B. STEINER of St. Paul, Minn., who declares he is now able to do twice the work he could before taking Tanlac, and that his sister has gained sixteen pounds

"Talking about things that help people, I have just received a letter from my sister in Waterloo, Iowa, telling me she has gained sixteen pounds in weight by taking Tanlac," said A. B. Steiner, 160 East Page street, St. Paul, Minn., recently.

"My sister was on a visit to me a short while ago, and as she was suffering from stomach trouble some one advised her to try Tanlac, which she did, and as I saw the great benefit she was getting from it I decided to try it myself, for I had been troubled with my stomach for the past two years. I had a very poor appetite, and the little I did manage to eat seemed to lodge right in the pit of my stomach and sour. I would bloat terribly after eating and have the worst sort of cramping pains in my stomach, and at times I had such bad attacks of heartburn I would nearly go wild. My back gave me a lot of trouble, and I had such intense pains in the small of my back I could hardly bend over. To add to my other troubles, about two months ago I began to suffer with rheumatism in my shoulder blades and arms, which got so bad I could hardly do my work and could not even put on my coat without assistance. I was so nervous I could get but little sleep and would roll and toss from one side of the bed to the other all night long, and would get up in the morning all tired out. I was so badly rundown and had lost so much weight I was a weak I could hardly get about at all.

Well, while I have only taken five bottles of Tanlac in all my improvement is simply remarkable. I have such a good appetite I am hungry all the time, and my stomach is in such a splendid condition I can eat anything I want without suffering the least bit from it afterward. The pains have all gone out of my back and I never have the least sign of the rheumatism. In fact, I never have an ache or pain of any kind. I sleep as sound as a log every night and have gained in weight and strength until I can do twice as much work as I could before I began taking Tanlac. Yes, sir! I can recommend Tanlac after what it has done for me, and I know it will do the same for others if they will only give it a fair trial." Tanlac is sold in Ogden by A. R. McIntyre Drug Co.—Advertisement.

INDEPENDENTS OPPOSE NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE

FARGO, N. D., April 9.—A special committee of the North Dakota Independent Voters' association meeting here last night with committees of Republicans and Democrats, formulated a plan of action for opposing the Non-Partisan league at the primary election June 30.

It was recommended that Republican and Democratic state conventions be held on the same day in the same city for the forming of party tickets, and that both parties merge on candidates for the legislature. Final action as to the date and other details will be taken later.

BUSY POLITICAL YEAR IS AHEAD

California Voters Face Three Elections of More Than Ordinary Importance

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—California voters face an unusually busy political year. There will be three elections, all of which are regarded by party leaders as being of more than ordinary importance. These elections, and their dates, are:

Presidential primary, May 4.

State primary, August 24.

General election, November 2.

At the presidential primary the voters will be given an opportunity of balloting for candidates as delegates to the national conventions on one of three tickets—Republican, Democratic and Prohibition. On the two latter tickets the delegates, of which there are 26, will be unopposed except for the independent candidacy on the Democratic ticket of Henry H. Childers of Los Angeles. Mr. Childers, the president of an oil company, said recently, in explanation of his candidacy, that "since the Democratic state central committee did not see fit to put his name on the regular ticket, he would try his luck because he wanted to go to the national convention."

Two Presidential Candidates

The Republican ticket will present a contest between rival delegations pledged to support respectively the candidacies at the national convention of United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson, of San Francisco, and Herbert C. Hoover, of Palo Alto, Cal., former United States food administrator.

The ballots will plainly indicate how each delegation stands on the matter of a preferred candidate. Thus, the Republican ballot will contain two parallel lists, and at the head of each will be printed a line indicating which candidate the delegation favors for the nomination.

No candidate for the presidential nomination is excluded by reason of a non-residence in California from entering the state and seeking to elect a list of delegates favorable to his own candidacy in the national conventions. The primary election machinery is available to all comers, and getting the names of pledged candidates on the party ballots is largely a mechanical process. After the election of delegates to the conventions comes the minor matter of selecting alternate delegates, who will accompany the regulars and participate in the voting at the conventions only when the regulars are incapacitated through illness or other causes. The primary law provides that the delegates shall meet and select their own alternates, four at large and one from each of the state's 11 congressional districts.

Voters Not Obligated
A voter intending to cast his ballot at the presidential primary is under no obligation to vote for the ticket of whose party he registered, state officials have held. If he registered as a Republican he can demand and receive a Democratic ballot, or the ballot of any other party that has candidates to be voted for. This situation caused something of a controversy in political circles recently, but election experts contended that the primary law conferred that privilege specifically.

In August the state primaries will be on the nature of an elimination contest, with a United States senatorship the most important of the various positions to be voted on. Senator James D. Phelan is a candidate to succeed himself, but half a dozen or more candidates have declared their intention of entering the race.

Ballot Very Long
The ballot will be a long one, with the following offices to be voted on: United States senator.

Eleven congressional representatives.

One justice of the supreme court (short term).

Twenty state senators, one from each even-numbered district.

Eighty assemblymen.

Delegates to the state convention from even numbered senatorial districts by each party not represented by holdover senators.

Presiding justice court of appeal.

KING REFUSES TO RE-INSTATE FORMER DANISH PREMIER

Ex-premier Zahle.

King Christian of Denmark has refused to re-instate ex-Premier Zahle despite the protest of the social democratic parliamentary group.

First district, division one, short term.

Presiding justice court of appeal, first district, division two.

Two associate justices, court of appeal, first district, division two.

Presiding justice, court of appeal, second district, division two.

Two associate justices, court of appeal, second district, division two.

Judges of the superior court and certain non-partisan offices in several counties.

The law provides that "in case there is but one person to be elected at the November election to any judicial, school, county or township office, any candidate who receives at the August primary a majority of the total number of votes cast for all the candidates for such office shall be the only candidate whose name shall be printed on the ballot at the ensuing election."

Following this primary on the third Tuesday in September, the state conventions will go into action at Sacramento to adopt platforms on which the candidates will make their campaigns; elect state central committees, and, as 1920 is a national election year, they will also select thirteen presidential electors to go on the ballot at the November general election.

Democrats to Meet In San Francisco Is Cummings' Order

WATERBURY, Conn., April 8.—The Democratic national convention will be held in San Francisco, according to Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the Democratic national committee. He made this declaration here tonight when he was shown a dispatch saying it was proposed to hold the convention in Oakland, across the bay. Mr. Cummings said:

"There is always a certain amount of dissatisfaction and complaint at this stage of the game. The convention will be held in San Francisco and not across the bay as proposed. I have a personal representative in San Francisco at present and he will go ahead with the program as planned."

EX-SOLDIER MURDERS HIS FORMER NURSE

BORDEAUX, April 8.—Crime, which has been rampant in France since the war, has afforded an instance of peculiar turpitude in the case of Maurice Duclouet, a former soldier. On March 12 at Abbeville, he murdered a woman, who as a Red Cross nurse had cared for him when wounded. The victim was Madame Bonjean, wife of the head of the bar in Abbeville; she was killed by Duclouet and then robbed.

Duclouet has just been arrested. His home at Talence, a suburb of Bordeaux, was searched and jewels which belonged to Madame Bonjean were found there.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Lustre With Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or softbrush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears and, after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.—Advertisement.

16,000,000 overalls go on every day

OVER three times as many men as Uncle Sam's great army during the war—that's how many Americans put on overalls every day.

16,000,000 men wear overalls in the United States.

And of these 16,000,000 men, more wear Blue Buckles than any other kind of overall.

They all want overalls that wear well and fit easy—overalls that do not rip or bind.

Just this sort of wear and comfort comes with every pair of Blue Buckles. They're made with the toughest, longest-wearing denim—and lots of it—with big double-stitched, rip-proof seams—with heavy brass riveted buttons, and loops and buckles that won't come off. They are big and roomy, with extra wide suspenders, big, convenient, reinforced pockets, and a solid back band that holds the shape and prevents ripping.

Ask for Blue Buckles the next time you buy overalls.
